Managing your disk space

Running out of disk space? Here's what you can do... Store images on an online account with a photo-printing site like Snapfish (www.snapfish.com) or Zoomin (zoomin.com). Both offer totally, unrestricted, unlimited online disk space and lifetime accounts. While as of now Zoomin allows only JPG files, Snapfish permits you to upload and store JPG, BMP and ZIP (containing JPGs) file formats. Else try MediaFire (www.mediafire.com) for free unlimited media storage — though there is no guarantee when it could start charging you and you'll find yourself stuck between a rock and a hard place! —AB
